

CEAT HIGHLIGHTS

NOVEMBER 14, 2024

It is with great excitement that OSU's Rand Elliott of Rand Elliott Architects and his wife Jeanette Elliott invite you to a special screening of the Smithsonian Channel's show "How Did They Build That", featuring Folding Light, Oklahoma Contemporary's state-of-the-art facility. This intimate gathering will offer a unique opportunity to celebrate the vision behind Oklahoma Contemporary's landmark building and the team who made this project possible. The event is free of charge, but you must RSVP to Hannah-Jean Heffron at hheffron@okcontemp.org or call 405-951-0000 by Monday, November 18 to ensure your place at this special celebration.

Wednesday, November 20, 2024 6:00 p.m. | Cocktail reception featuring lite bites, 6:30 p.m. | Screening, 7:00 p.m. | Toast to Folding Light

READ MORE

CEAT Student Spotlight: International leadership experience inspires Sherrer

Sheridan Sherrer is a sophomore in IEM who has developed a passion for wanting to make a sustainable difference in the world.

READ MORE

NPDC assists with engineering through IAS

Through market research, product development and engineering services, the NPDC helps 60 inventors annually through its Inventor's Assistance Service.

READ MORE

OSU's College of Engineering, Architecture and Technology announces 2024 Hall of Fame Inductees, Lohmann Medal recipients

CEAT honored the 2024 CEAT Hall of Fame inductees and Lohmann Medal recipients on November 9, 2024. Hall of Fame inductees must be a distinguished engineer, architect or technologist who has made outstanding contributions to their profession or OSU and has served their community, state and nation with distinction. Lohmann Medal recipients are CEAT alumni who are honored for contributions to the profession or education of engineers, architects or technologists that merit the highest recognition.

READ MORE

Guoliang Fan named head of the OSU School of Electrical and Computer Engineering

Dr. Guoliang Fan has been appointed department head for the School of Electrical and Computer Engineering at Oklahoma State University pending approval by the OSU A&M Board of Regents.

READ MORE

Partnership between CEAT PD, Oklahoma DEQ continues to grow

A strong partnership has developed between the Oklahoma DEQ and CEAT Professional Development. It has resulted in numerous training courses provided to Oklahoma residents.

READ MORE

Soil erosion and sediment control C4 conference

More than 100 attendees gathered at the USDA Agricultural Research Services facility near Lake Carl Blackwell for a unique, hands-on stormwater compliance training. The conference provides training on soil erosion and sediment control practices.

READ MORE

OSU Mortar Board names 7 CEAT students in top 20 freshmen men and women

The Oklahoma State University chapter of the Mortar Board honor society recently named seven College of Engineering, Architecture and Technology students to its annual list of Top 20 Freshmen men and women for the 2023-24 class.

READ MORE

CEAT student aims to reduce CO2 and inspire others along the way

Adonis Gardner, a Ph.D. candidate for chemical engineering, demonstrates a passion for both research and mentorship.

Important scholarship information for students

Deadlines for scholarships are soon approaching for recurring OSU students looking for financial support.

FOLLOW US
@OSU_CEAT

- Facebook
- X
- Instagram
- Linkedin
- More Stories
- Give Now
- Contact Us

Join CEAT for the upcoming Senior Design Expo!

We hope you will join us for our Fall 2024 Senior Design Expo taking place from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on November 22, at ENDEAVOR Lab.