

Congratulations CEAT Graduates!

Bishop selected as the College of Engineering, Architecture and Technology's Orange Gown recipient

Sarah Bishop has been selected as the Oklahoma State University College of Engineering, Architecture and Technology's (CEAT) Orange Gown recipient.

The Orange Gown recipient is distinguished amongst all other graduates by wearing an orange robe and by being the standard bearer for their college during the processional and recessional. Bishop will represent CEAT as the college gonfalon carrier at the commencement in Stillwater on Saturday, May 13.

Read more

@osu_ceil

MORE STORIES

CONTACT US

Tikalsky receives Fulbright Specialist Award to Uzbekistan at Namangan Institute of Engineering and Technology

The U.S. Department of State and the Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board announced that Dr. Paul Tikalsky, dean of the College of Engineering, Architecture and Technology (CEAT) at Oklahoma State University has received a Fulbright Specialist Program award.

Read more

US News and World Report ranks CEAT among 2023-2024 Best Graduate Schools

The U.S. News and World Report ranked four programs in the College of Engineering, Architecture and Technology (CEAT) at Oklahoma State University in the top 50 2023-2024 Best Engineering Graduate Schools.

Read more

An OSU interdisciplinary team receives the Director's Award in the Solar Decathlon Competition

A team in the College of Engineering, Architecture and Technology's (CEAT) School of Architecture (SOA) was awarded the Director's Award in the Education Division at the 2023 U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) Solar Decathlon Design Competition held in Golden, Colorado on April 20-23, 2023. The Director's Award is given to a team chosen by the director of the Solar Decathlon Program among the presentations attended in all competition divisions.

Read more

ENDEAVOR assists OSU physics students in winning nationwide competition

Oklahoma State University's College of Engineering, Architecture, and Technology (CEAT) assisted the OSU chapter of Society of Physics Students (SPS) team in winning the nationwide competition to represent the United States at the International Physics Tournament.

Read more

CEAT personnel actions taken this spring

Dan Cook

Guiping Hu

Lizhi Wang

Jamey Jacob

Read more

Faculty Highlight: Jeffrey Spitler receives the International Energy Association's Peter Ritter von Rittinger Award

Jeffrey Spitler, Regents Professor in Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering was selected for the International Energy Association's Peter Ritter von Rittinger award. This award is the highest international award in the field of air conditioning, heat pump, and refrigeration and it recognizes distinguished individuals for advancing the field with lasting international impact.

Read more

Student Highlight: CIVE student awarded ACI Fellowship

Mohammad Jobaer Uddin, a third year Ph.D. student in the School of Civil and Environmental Engineering is one of 19 students nationwide who received an ACI Fellowship.

Read more

Did you know you can submit your events (faculty, staff and student) to CEAT's calendar?

Check it out

<https://ceat.okstate.edu/marketing-and-communications>