Authorization for Temperature Check

Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19)

The CDC has advised employers to keep sick employees and camp participants at home to limit the transmission of COVID-19. Per the CDC, symptoms of COVID-19 include a fever at or greater than 100.4° F, cough, and shortness of breath. Symptoms may not be limited to the abovementioned symptoms and may change based on current and relevant information and symptoms.

To ensure the safety and health of our employees and campers who may interact with other others in camp. We are conducting daily temperature checks prior to camp entry and at the end of the camper's day.

- If your temperature reading is at or greater than 100.4° F your child may not enter or remain at the facility. Elevated temperatures may be subject to this requirement as well.
- Additionally, if you are experiencing ongoing cough or shortness of breath your child may not enter the facility.

If you are unable to enter the camp, we ask that you voluntarily home isolate and contact a health official for further review and instructions.

My signature below indicates that I have read and understand above statements and agree to have my temperature checked upon entry to camp each day as well as the end of their camp day.
