

ZINK CENTER FOR COMPETITIVE INNOVATION

The Zink Center Leadership Seminar Series

Disruptive Technologies in a Seemingly Chaotic World

Dan Shuart

Daniel Shuart is a Senior Consultant with Future Point of View (FPOV)—a technology strategy firm headquartered in Edmond, OK. He has over 40 years of proven success in Information Technology and has held multiple executive leadership positions. He has worked for a broad range of companies—from Silicon Valley for a startup company during the “Dot Com” era to Fortune 100 companies.

Mr. Shuart’s focus is on digital leadership and working with companies on developing digital strategies and capabilities that produce measurable business results. He is passionate about new business and technology dynamics and driving transformation in IT departments.

Because of his innovative work, Salesforce—the top AI customer relationship management (CRM) firm—invited Daniel to speak on his successes at one of its recent national conventions. He also recently spoke at the Amazon Web Services (AWS) national convention regarding Natural Language Processing and AI to assist people with disabilities. He was a recent guest on Amazon’s AWS podcast, Amazon Webcast, and has been a contributor to the AWS technology blog. He was a guest on ABC’s Rise & Shine to discuss “day-to-day analytics for sales professionals.”

Dan has a BS Degree in Geology with a minor in Mathematics and Computer Science from Western Illinois University.
